Reason for sending you this information

We want to make you aware of a change on the water selector motor due to newer machines having a different electrical connection for the motor water selector.

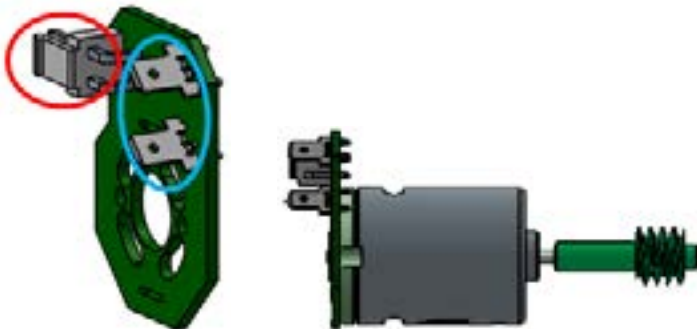

Part information:

We have added a extra printboard onto the motor with 2 different connections.

- 1 connection is a connection for a connector for new type of machines.
- 1 connection is for 2 loose wires for the older type of machines.

The motor water selector can now be used both on older and newer machines as it has 2 different connections.

Hereunder the added printboard on the motor water selector with the 2 different connections.

On the left, red circled, the connection for the new type machines.

On the right, blue circled, the connection for older type machines.

- *The first machines with the new water selector motor were produced from January 2025.
(The date can be different for certain models as the water selector motor is used in many different models)*
